

Virtual Workshops and Classes for Botanical Artists

Pacific Northwest Botanical Artists, a chapter of American Society of Botanical Artists, has a couple great virtual workshops in the planning stage. More information will be on their website soon.

<https://www.pnba-artists.org/upcoming-pnba-workshops.html>

Heeyoung Kim

Heeyoung is a master artist and skilled teacher, now offering Zoom classes.

- A series titled Fixing Mistakes, 3 hours for $50 (starts in July)
- A Beginner's Course in Watercolor, 4 meetings, 3 hours each, for $200

https://www.heeyoungkim.net/?fbclid=IwAR3icj7vuXZKa8j1-frSOBXq\_8XvAHQCmM5dVSqxEWLWh9J2Fw6QEIz8-8I

Julia Trickey

Julia is a well-known watercolor artist in the UK. She offers pre-recorded downloadable videos either free or very low cost. She includes instructor feedback in some of her classes.

<https://juliatickeyart.teachable.com/courses>

Sarah Morrish

Sarah provides online learning resources via Patreon. Two 2hr live tutorials are included along with 5 days membership of the group after the last live session, during which time feedback can be given on shared work. Further info can be found here: <https://www.patreon.com/naturesdetails>

In addition, she can also provide tailor-made online workshops for organizations and their members, details of which can be found at: <https://www.illustratingnaturesdetails.com/drawing-nature-online-workshops>

Dianne Sutherland

Dianne has extensive experience as an artist and teacher. She offers both short and in-depth courses in virtually every aspect of botanical watercolor painting and graphite drawings. Her courses consist of pre-recorded videos and personal feedback. Her botanical art blog has a wealth of information, just do a search on the topic you are interested in. <https://www.botanicalart-online.com/short-courses>

<https://www.botanicalart-online.com/online-courses>

Shevaun Doherty

Shevaun offers a course in botanical art with prerecorded videos and personal feedback for her students. Her course covers the topics: line, shape, tone, form color, texture, and space.

<https://shevaundoherty.com/botanical-elements-online-art-course/>

Carrie di Constanzo

Carrie offers a class on painting Magnolia leaves in gouache, which is full, but she has a waiting list and will schedule another class if there is enough interest. She has a downloadable syllabus, which indicates that her classes go for a full day, with lectures, demos and student/teacher interaction. Her classes are $200 for 2 days.

<https://www.carriedicostanzo.com/classes.html>

Betsy Rogers-Knox

Betsy teaches two botanical art classes weekly, one for beginners and one for advanced students. They are ongoing classes that you pay for week by week, $30 for about 3 hours.

<https://www.rogersknoxart.com/online-classes.html>

Catherine Watters

Catherine will be teaching 'Painting Roses', August 11 - 13 through Wellesley College on Zoom.

https://www.wellesley.edu/wcbq/learn/art\_in\_the\_botanic\_gardens

Ann Swan

Ann has several in-depth colored pencil courses online, and some stand alone classes in color mixing and graphite and one on soft fruits planned for the future.

<https://annswan.co.uk/workshops-holidays/online-tuition/>

Phipps Conservatory

They are offering the following Zoom classes

- Melissa Fabian is teaching zoom classes drawing birds, trees, pollinators
- Botanical Art Lunch and Learn Series: Wednesdays noon to 1 pm (full series $24)

July 1 – Talk about Botanical Artist Mary Delany her life and works

July 8 – Melissa Fabian – Wall of Birds at Cornell University Lab

July 15- Robin Menard – What it is like to take a botanical drawing class

July 22 - Amy Lindenberger – Behind the scenes with a botanical art instructor

<https://www.phipps.conservatory.org/classes-and-programs/for-adults/botanical-art-and-illustration/>

New York Botanical Gardens

Offers ZOOM classes with these instructors:

- Wendy Hollander – Roses in Colored Pencil and Watercolor
- Carrie Di Constanzo – Cherries in Dry Brush
- Laura Vogel – Botanical Watercolor for Beginners and Beyond
- Betsy Rogers-Knox – I think she taught composition three months ago

<https://www.nybg.org/learn/adult-education/botanical-art-classes/>